["From the high throne of the heavens, shining brighter than the sun, I have come down to make you see, to judge you. Living kings and rulers are put down beneath me. Be wise, believing in me always, and I shall make those who weep and grieve rejoice. Thus all nations placing hope in me shall rejoice. I have come down in your sight as a benevolent king and for your scrutiny; I am called 'Eternal Prince, Christ your Saviour'"]

To further falsehood he has fand and puffed up himself with fantasy.	earth contrived

50	Also he told them, believe you me, that I of gift-es should be free, which prophecy fulfilled shall be when I my realm have won;	generous
55	and that I should grant men posty,[throw gold-covered chocs] abundant riches, land and fee - it shall be done, that you shall see, when I am hither come.	power reward
	"Dabit eis potestatem, et multis terram dividet gratuito," [He shall give them rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain."]
60	What say you kings that here be lent? Are not my words at your assent? That I am Christ Omnipotent believe you not each one?	dwelling agreeable to you
Henry	We believe, lord, without let, that Christ is not come yet. If thou be he, thou shall be set in temple as God alone.	truly
Edward 66	If thou be Christ, call-ed "Messy", that from our torment shall us buy, do before us a mastery, a sign that we may see.	act of power
70	Then will I believe that it is so. If thou do wonders before you go so that thou save us from our woe, then honoured shalt thou be.
ANTICHRIST 80	That I am Christ and Christ will be by true sign soon shall you see, for dead men through my posty shall rise from death to life.	power
85	Men buried in grave as you may see, what mastery is now, think ye, to raise them up through my posty and all through my own accord?	power consent
	Rise up dead men and honour me, and know me for your lord.
	Then the dead shall rise again from the grave

105	Now will I die, that you shall see, and rise again through my posty. I will in grave that you put me and worship me alone.	power

Henry	Now since this worthy lord is dead and his grace is to us led, to take his body it is my read and bury it in a grave.	committed counsel
120
Edward	Truly, and so he to us said in a tomb he would be laid. Now go we forth, all in a braid; from distress he may us save.	instant

	Then they shall go across to Antichrist.
Edward	Take we the body of this sweet and bury it now under the greet. Now, Lord, comfort us, we thee beseech, and send us some of thy grace.	beloved one earth
Henry	And if he rise soon through his might from death to life, as he behight, him will I honour day and night as God in every place.	promised
131
	Then they shall withdraw from the grave-mound as far as the ground.
Henry	Now know I well that he is dead, for now in grave we have him laid. If he rise as he has said, he is of full great might.
135
Edward	I cannot believe him upon unless he rise himself alone as he hath said to many a one, and reveal himself here in sight.

Edward	Truly, in seat thou shalt be set and honoured with lamb and get as Moses' Law that endures yet, as he hath said before.	 goat
[Edward believes in the miracle and is willing to be dazzled and obey]

Then he shall send forth his Spirit, saying: "Dabo vobis cor novum et spiritum novum in medio vestri." ["A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit within you."] [What exactly does an Antichrist Holy Ghost look like? At the moment Callie's sister will pop up from the trap and with pipe/sparklers enchant/drug the kings]

ENOCH

Almighty God in majesty, that made the Heaven and Earth to be,
fire, water, stone and tree, and Mankind through thy might – the attributes of thy privity any mortal man for to see person

Gracious Lord, who art so good, who has granted life and heavenly food

240	to all who live as flesh and blood, let never our thoughts be defiled; but give us, Lord, might and main, before we by this wretch be slain, to convert thy people back again that he hath thus beguiled.	power and strength
245	Since the world's beginning I have lived in great liking through help of high and Heaven King in Paradise without annoy, till we heard tokening	happiness distress evidence
250	of this thief's coming that now on Earth is reigning and doth God's folks destroy.
255	To Paradise I was taken that tide this thief his coming to abide, and Hely, my brother, here me beside, was after sent to me. With this champion we must chide that now in world walketh wide, to disprove his pomp and pride and diminish all his posty.	time await dispute power
260
ELLJAH	Oh Lord who made all thing and long has given us living, let never the Devil's power spring which this man hath him within.
265	God give you grace. both old and young, to know the deceit that he is doing, that you may come to that liking of bliss that never shall blin.	joy cease
270	I warn you all men, certainly, this is Enoch, I am Hely, who are come his errors to destroy that he to you now shows. He calls himself "Christ" and Messy" He lies, forsooth, openly.	Messiah
275	He is the Devil, you to annoy, because none other him knows.	harm recognise
Edward	Ah, men what speak ye of Hely and Enoch? They are both in company. Of our blood they are, truly. and we be of their kind.	companions kindred
280
Henry	We read in Books of our Law that they to heaven were idraw – and still are there by common saw, written as men may find.	drawn up opinion discover
ENOCH	We be those men, truly iwiss, come to say that you do amiss, and bring your souls to Heaven-bliss if there were any boot.	improvement
286
ELLJAH	This Devil's limb that come is, that saith Heaven and Earth are his, now we be ready, believe you this,
290

	against him for to moot.	argue our case
Edward 295	If that we here know mon by proofs of disputation that you have skill and reason, with you we will abide.	may
Edward 300	And if your skills may do him down, to die with you we will be boun in hope of salvation, whatever may betide.	ready
ENOCH 305	To do him down we shall assay through might of Jesus born of a may, by right and reason, as you shall say, and that you shall well hear. And for that cause hither were we sent by Jesus Christ Omnipotent, and that you shall not all be shent. He bought you all full dear.	try virgin
310	Be glad, therefore, and make good cheer, and I do counsel as I you lere, for we are come in good manner to save you every one. And dread you not for that false fiend, for you shall see him cast behind	teach
315	before we depart and from him wend, and shame shall light him on.	go descend
	And thus Enoch and Elijah shall go across to Antichrist.
ENOCH 320	Say, thou very Devil's limb, that sits so grizzly and so grim – from him thou came, and shalt to him, for many a soul thou beguiles. Thou hast deceived men many a day and manipulated the people to thy pay, and bewitched them into a wrong way wickedly with thy wiles. [Enoch should be a bit aggressive and use his staff to threaten Antichrist, antichrist can attempt to use sexy wiles on Enoch.]
ANTICHRIST 326	Ah, false scoundrels, from me ye flee! Am I not most in majesty? What men dare act thus to me or make such distance?	kingly power discord
ELIJAH 330	Fie on thee, scoundrel, fie on thee, the Devil's own nurry! Through him thou preacheest and has posty for a time through sufferance. [Elijah has to physically pull Enoch away]	foster-child power
ANTICHRIST 335	Oh you hypocrites that so cryen! Liars, reascals! Loudly you lyen! To destroy my Law you aspyen. You that my true faith defyen and harm my folk with charms divine, from hence hastily! But you hence hasten, to you comes sorrow and care.	cry out lie set a trap defy divination unless
340

ENOCH	Thy sorrow and care come on thy head, for falsely through thy wicked read the people are put to pain.	counsel
345	I would thy body were from thy head twenty mile from it laid, till I brought it again!
[Tries to behead Antichrist, is pulled back by Enoch and the Counsellor is like the Antichrist's bodyguard, trying to stop violence from happening.]
ANTICHRIST	Out on thee stupid babbler, with thy wiles, for falsely my people thou beguiles. I shall thee hastily hang,
350	and that scoundrel that stand thee by – he puts my folk to great annoy with his false flattering tongue. [From here, counsellor tries to kick 2 prophets off stage]	distress
ANTICHRIST	Out on you, thieves both two. Each man may see you be so all by your array, muffled in mantles! None such I know.
365
380	My might is most, I tell thee. I died, I rose through my posty. That all these kings saw with their ee, and every man and wife. And miracles and marvels I did also.	power. eyes
385	I counsel you, therefore, both two, to worship me and no moe and let us no more strive.	other contend
ELIJAH	They were no miracles but marvellous things that thou showed unto these kings. Into falsehood thou them brings through the Fiend's craft. And as the flower now springs, falleth, fadeth, and hangs, so thy joys – now it rings that shall be from thee raft. [Antichrist Start losing composure]	wilts flourishes taken away
390
ANTICHRIST	Out on thee, thief that sits so still!
COUNSELLOR	Oh Lord, Master, what shall I say then?
ANTICHRIST	I curse both thy knen! Do you have to be told then? In faith, I shall thee grieve.	knees
401
405	Through my godhead I made thee wise and set thee always at a great price. Now I would have thy good advice and hear what thou would say. These villains they would happily me grieve and nothing about me will they believe, but ever are ready me to repreve and take my people from my lay.	rebuke law.
410
COUNSELLOR	Oh Lord that art so great of might I think thou shouldst not argue nor fight;

	but curse them, Lord, through thy might. Then shall they fare full ill.
415	For those whom thou blesses, they will speed; and those whom thou cursest, they are but dead. This is my counsel and my read, yonder heretics for to spill.	prosper as good as advice destroy
ANTICHRIST 420	The same I purposed, believe thou me. All things I know through my posty. But yet thy wisdom I thought to see, what was thine intent.	power
425	It shall be done most certainly; the sentence given full openly with my mouth, truly, upon them shall be hent.	delivered
	My curse I give you to amend your meels, from your head to your heels! Walk ye forth in your way.	arguments?
	[How does the Antichrist curise people visually?]
ENOCH 431	Yea, thou shalt never come in caelis for falsely with thy wiles the people are put in pain.	into heaven
	[Enoch angry, Antichrist gets angry]
ANTICHRIST 435	Out on you, thieves! Why behave like this? Which would you rather have, pain or bliss? I may save you from all amiss.	trouble
440	I made the day and also the night and all things that are on Earth growing – flowers fair and fresh did spring; also I made all other thing – the stars that be so bright.	grew up
ELIJAH 460	Fie on thee, felon, fie on thee, fie! For all thy witchcraft and sorcery, to dispute with thee I am ready, that all the people may hear.
ANTICHRIST	Out on you, harlots! Whence come ye? Where have any other god but me?
ENOCH 465	Yea – Christ, God in Trinity, thou false scoundrel attaint, that sent his Son from Heaven-see that for Mankind died on rood-tree, that shall full soon make thee to flee, thou faitour false and faint.	corrupt heavenly throne scoundrel
ANTICHRIST	Villains, go out of my way! What is “the Trinity” for to say?
ELIJAH 471	Three Persons, as believe thou may, in one Godhead together – Father and Son, that is no nay, and the Holy Ghost active ay.	denying always
475	That is one God, truly; are all three named here.

[Antichrist kick them out and beat back with scepter]

ANTICHRIST 476	Out on you, thieves! What say ye? Will you have one God and three? How dare you so say? Madmen! madmen! Therefore believe on me that am one God – so is not he!
480
ELIJAH 500	Fie on thee, felon, fie on thee, fie! For through his might and majesty by sufferance of God Almighty, the people are blinded through thee.
ANTICHRIST 510	Ah fools, I advise you, believe me upon that miracles have showed to many one, to the people every one, to put them out of doubt. Therefore I advise you hastily, convert to me most mighty. I shall you save from annoy, and that I am about.	anguish
ENOCH 516	Now something of thy miracle would I see. Therefore come hither are we – to see what is thy great posty and something of it to lear.	power learn
[Enoch and Elijah can comeback on stage]
ANTICHRIST 520	Soon may you see, if you will abide, for I will neither dispute nor chide. Of all the world that is so wide therein is not my peer.	equal
ENOCH 525	Bring forth those men here in our sight that thou hast raised against the right. If thou be so great of might as to make them eat and drink, for the true God we will thee know such a sign if thou wilt show, and do thee reverence on a row all at thy liking.	wrongfully acknowledge together
530
ANTICHRIST 535	Wretches damn-ed all be ye! But nought for that! It befits me as a gracious God tolerant to be, if you will reform your way of life. You dead men, rise through my posty. Come, eat and drink, that men may see, and prove me worthy of Deity; so shall we stop all strife.	power
1 ST DEAD 540	Lord, thy bidding I will do ay and for to eat I will assay.	always try
2 ND DEAD	And I also, all that I may, will do thy bidding here.
ELIJAH 545	Have here bread both two. But I must bless it before it go, that the Fiend, Mankind's foe over it may have no power
[use hostholder like a cross to vampires]

	This bread I bless with my hand [making the sign of the cross] in Jesus name, I understand, the which is Lord of sea and land and King of Heaven on high.
550	“In nomine patris” that all hath wrought, “et Filii Virginis” that dear us bought, “et Spiritus Sancti” is all my thought, “one God in Persons three.”
	[Chase the dead with your host holder]
1 ST DEAD 556	Alas! Put that bread out of my sight! To look on it I am not light. That mark that is upon it pight, it puts me in great fear.	happy set
2 ND DEAD 560	To look on it I am not light. That bread to me it is so bright and is my foe both day and night, and puts me to great fear.	happy
ENOCH 565	Now, you men that have done amiss you see what his real power is. Convert to him, I read iwiss, that you on the cross hath bought.	advise redeemed
Henry	Ah, now we know openly, we have been led into heresy. With you to death we will go forthy, and never again turn our thought.	therefore alter our resolve
Edward 571	Now, Enoch and Hely, we cannot deny you have defeated the tyrant this same day. Blessed be Jesus, born of a may! Him I believe upon.	maiden
Henry 575	Thou scoundrel, hidden by fantasy, with sorcery, witchcraft and necromancy, thou hast us led into heresy. Fie on thy works each one!	magic
Edward 580	Jesus, for thy great grace, forgive us all our trespass and bring us to thy heavenly place, as thou art God and Man. Now am I made wise through thy might. Blessed be thou, Jesus, day and night!
585	This grizzly groom arms him to fight and slay us here anon.	at once
Henry	For our lives let us not retch, though we be slain by such a wretch, for Jesus’ sake who may us teach how our souls to bring to bliss.	care
Edward 591	That was well said, and so I assent. To die, truly, is mine intent for Christ’s love Omnipotent, in a cause that is righteous.	resolve
	[Kneel, act like a martyr]
ANTICHRIST	Ah, false faitours turn you now!

595 You shall be slain, I make a vow;
 and those traitors who so converted you,
 I shall make them unfain, distressed that all others by true sight witness shall know that I am most of might,
 600 for with this sword now will I fight,
 for all you shall be slain.
 [Kill everyone while saying your happy lines...]

The Antichrist shall kill Enoch and Elijah and all the converted kings with the sword and shall return to his throne – at which point Michael with a sword in his right hand shall speak

MICHAEL Antichrist, now is come this day.
 Reign no longer now thou may.
 He that hath led thee alway,
 605 now him thou must go to.
 No more men shall be slain by thee
 My Lord desires that dead thou be.
 He that hath given thee this posty i.e. the Devil; power thy soul shall underfo. receive

610 In sin engendered first thou was.
 In sin led thy life thou has.
 In sin an end now thou makes that marred has many one.
 Thou has ever served Satanas
 615 and had his power in every place.
 Therefore thou gets now no grace.
 To him thou must be gone.

620 Three years and half one truly thou hast had leave to destroy God's people wickedly through thy evil read. counsel
 Now thou shalt understand in hie at once that greater is God's majesty than also the Devil's and thine thereby, with it for now thou shalt be dead.

Then Michael shall kill Antichrist and as he is killed Antichrist shall cry "Help. help, help, help!"

ANTICHRIST Help, Satanas and Lucifer!
 626 Beelzebub, bold bachelor! knight
 Ragnell, Ragnell, thou art my dear! beloved
 Now fare I wonder evil.
 Alas, alas where is my power?
 630 Now body and soul both together and all goeth to the Devil.
 [Michael steps on her with sword lifted up... look like Renaissance painting... while the devils do their scene, Michael will go around the back and pick up host holder and start feeding Elijah and Enoch... he will reanimate them with the host]

Then Antichrist shall die, and two devils shall come and shall speak as follows:

1ST DEVIL Anon, master, anon, anon at once
 From Hell-ground I heard thee groan.
 I thought not to come myself alone
 635 in honour of thine estate. position
 With us to Hell thou shalt be gone.
 For this death we make great moan.

	To win more souls into our wone – but now it is too late!	dwelling
2 ND DEVIL 641	With me thou shalt go – from me thou did come. From me shall come thy final doom. for thou hast it well deserved.
645	And through my might and my posty thou hast lived in dignity and many a soul deceived.	power high estate
1 ST DEVIL	This body was begotten by mine assent [be lecherous] in pure lechery, truly. Of mother’s womb before he went, I was him within
650	and taught him ever with mine intent to sin, by which he shall be shent. Because he did my commandment, his soul shall never blin.	will destroyed find rest
2 ND DEVIL 655	Now, fellow, in faith great moan we make for this lord of estate that stands in this stead. Many a fat morsel we had for his sake of souls that should have been saved – in Hell are they hid!	place
	[Shall the kings be zombie food?] Then they shall take hold of his soul, and later his body.
1 ST DEVIL	His soul with sorrow in hand have I hent. Yea, penance and pain soon shall he feel!	seized
660	To Lucifer, that lord, it shall be present that burn shall as a brand. His sorrow shall not cool.	presented
2 ND DEVIL	This procurator of prophecy hath procured many one on his laws to believe, and lost for his sake their souls be, in sorrow – and his shall be soon!
665	Such great deeds through my might many do I make! Then the body of Antichrist is borne away by the devils.
1 ST DEVIL	With Lucifer, that lord, long shall he leng; in a seat ay with sorrow with him shall he sit.	dwel ever
2 ND DEVIL	Yea, by the heels in Hell shall he hang in a dungeon deep, right in Hell-pit!
1 ST DEVL 671	To Hell I hasten without any fail, with this present of worth thither to bring.	delay
2 ND DEVIL	Thou take him by the top and I by the tail. A sorrowful song, in faith, shall he sing!
1 ST DEVIL 675	Ah, fellow, a dole look that thou deal to all this fair company before hence thou wend.	portion go
2 ND DEVIL	Yea, sorrow and care ever shall they feel. If in Hell they shall dwell at their last end.
ENOCH 680	Ah, Lord, that all shall lead and judge both the quick and dead! Who reverence thee, thou on them heed and them through righteousness relieve.

	I was dead and right here slain, but through thy might, Lord, and thy main thou hast me rais-ed up again. Thee will I love and in thee believe.
685
ELLJAH	Yea, Lord, blessed may thou be, my flesh glorified now I see. Cunning nor deceit against thee planned may be by no way.	no means
690	All that believe in thee steadfastly thou helps, Lord, out of all annoy, for dead I was, and now live I. Honoured be thou ay.	trouble for ever
MICHAEL	Enoch and Hely, come you anon My Lord desires that you with me be gone to Heaven-bliss, both blood and bone, evermore there to be.	at once
695	You have been long, for you are wise, dwelling in Earthly Paradise; but to Heaven where God himself is now shall you go with me.
700

Then leading them to Heaven, the Angel shall sing "Gaudete just in Domino," etc.
[Kings remain on stage? Or will they rise and follow?]
